

NAME: _____

Job Search-First Impressions

Statement	True or False T or F	Fix Statement if False	How Sure Are You?
1. I might have to apply for odd or unappealing jobs.
2. Potential employers never contact teachers, probation officers, or community members, so it doesn't matter how I act or perform when in public or community forums.
3. When asking for or turning in a job application, it doesn't matter what I wear, how I look, or how I sound.
4. It's okay ask for or turn in a job application with a friend or group of friends
5. When filling out a job application, I should use ink and my best handwriting.
6. Even if a job application doesn't ask for it, I can attach a resume, a references list, and even a cover letter.
7. After I turn in a job application, I shouldn't bother the employer with a follow-up call or a request for an interview.

8. When showing up for a job interview, I should be at least 10 minutes early.
9. When at a job interview, it doesn't matter if my cell phone is on.
10. Even for a minimum wage or odd job, I should dress professionally for an interview.
11. During an interview, the quality of my handshake and eye contact matters.
12. I shouldn't bother practicing job interview questions and answers ahead of time.
13. Employers Google applicants' and employees' names to see online activity (e.g. Facebook, Twitter, etc.), so I should make sure my online activity is mature and private.
14. After an interview, one way to make myself stand out is to drop off or send a thank you letter.
15. I know where and when I can get free help with my job search questions and/or documents.
16. I should put out my cigarette before I enter a potential employer's business.			