

Food Handler's Class/Exam

- orfoodhandlers.com
- Register with site by clicking “Log In” and then “Register”, and then follow instructions. The Log-in username and password for future use will simply be the person’s First and Last Name and their Date of Birth.
- For registration a home address and e-mail address are required. Using a school or business address works just fine. The address, e-mail address, and telephone number do not show up on the final printed card. Just the person’s name, date of certification, and the expiration date are shown on the card.
- While logged into the website and after successfully completing the test it is easy to pay for and print the card. To pay for the card click “pay fee” and follow the instructions (credit card needed). After paying fee, simply click “print options” and follow the instructions to print the card and/or certificate.
- Food handler’s cards are valid three years from the date the exam is passed
